

Toppan Digital Language Ltd is pleased to announce that it has acquired GlobaLexicon Ltd, a leading provider of language solutions to the market research, analytics, life sciences, healthcare, financial services and other sectors, with operations in the United Kingdom, Europe and North America.

Alexandra Jarvis, Chief Strategy Officer at Toppan Digital Language commented: “At Toppan Digital Language, our clear objective is to become the leading provider of language solutions for regulated and business-critical content, through a combination of strategic acquisitions and organic investment. GlobaLexicon has delivered impressive growth in recent years and has established a strong market position in its target sectors, which are fully aligned with our focused strategy. We are delighted to welcome its talented team to join us on our journey of growth.”

Market research and analytics customers rely on their translation partners to ensure the accuracy and integrity of the international data they gather for decision-making, with industry-specific solutions and a focus on information security. As experts in regulated and business-critical content, Toppan Digital Language will continue to provide the highest quality service to its customers in these sectors and will be expanding its range of services and solutions through further investment in people, technology, customer service and geographic coverage.

Daniela Toledo, founder and Managing Director of GlobaLexicon commented: “I am delighted that our team is becoming part of Toppan Digital Language. Our mission has always been to become the leader in the market sectors we concentrate on by providing an unrivalled focus on quality and consultative service. This new venture will enable us to further extend our leadership position and we cannot wait to unleash additional opportunities for our clients and for our growing international team.”

Christophe Djaouani, President of Toppan Digital Language commented: “We are excited to welcome GlobaLexicon employees and customers to Toppan Digital Language. GlobaLexicon’s positive culture, customer-centricity, industry specialisation and operational capabilities have underpinned its position as a leading provider of language solutions for business-critical content. We are committed to delivering the highest quality service to existing customers, bringing new solutions to market and building on the team’s great success.”
